- Book fair runs from Wednesday to Friday. All children have £1 WBD token which can be used when purchasing books. Just one token can be used per book. There are a good selection of reasonably priced titles. Everyone will have an opportunity to browse the books before they can be purchased at 2/3pm. If children have money to buy a book, it should be given (in a sealed and labelled envelope) to the office in the morning. If kept by the child, it could get lost during the day. Ordered books must be paid in advance.
 - Parent interviews were completed last week. Thanks to staff for their preparation and parents for taking time to come and talk about their child's progress. Partnership with parents is vital.
 - Following discussions with children, we have decided that there will be no Treat Thursday during Lent.
 - World book day. Thanks to everyone for their efforts in getting caught reading. The photos were very entertaining and inspired us all to read, no matter where we might find ourselves! Our spread reading sessions were lovely and it was clear to see the potential impact of sharing enthusiasm for books.
 - Lenten collection – Let's make a big effort to start filling those copper bottles over St Patrick's weekend
 - Green day arrangements. There will be 2 mini-concerts 9.30 (Y1 & 2) & 10.30 (Y3-7). Children can wear something green. Remember also that school closes at 1pm and there is no afterschools facility.
- Many thanks for your continued support
